Science News

This Week in Mr. Van's Class

*The Science Fair project is due Thursday. Students should have completed all parts of the trifold board and their PowerPoint presentation.

*Scores for this quarter have been entered into Focus. Please look at these with your child. If you see a zero, it's quite likely that assignment wasn't completed. Please note that SS assessments are open book.

*Since we are in class during our scheduled times, students should remain in the meeting and on camera unless they receive permission to leave. As teachers, we are required to verify that students are present throughout the day.

Live Class Meetings

Students should arrive at the live meetings with all materials available. Breaks are scheduled throughout the day for personal needs. Students who need to leave a live meeting should ask teacher for permission.

New Groups

To accommodate students who are returning to face-to-face instruction, we have formed new groups. For assessment, homework, and assignment purposes, all students will remain classified by their original homeroom. For accessing online science instruction, students should use the color of their group. Students who were assigned to Mr. Van will be in the Red Group. Those assigned to Ms. Brothers will be in the Purple Group. The students at school with Ms. Taylor will be the Blue Group.
